34) Legis 48-15 relating to the University Regulation, 1916, is put up. It shows that sanction of the Govt of India was not obtained for passing the Bill into law.

35) On the other point, it seems the practice is for the member in charge of the particular Bill to submit final notes at its different stages. This has been verified by an examination of the files noted in the margin.

Statement of objects and reasons.

The maximum strength of the University Senate and the University Council at present is 60 and 12 respectively. But as new faculties are being constituted and new colleges are also to be shortly affiliated to the University the number open for nomination in these two bodies will become very much reduced unless the maximum number fixed by the Regulation for these bodies is raised. It is therefore deemed advisable to raise the number to 70 and 15 respectively and fill up these additional places as necessity arises.

A draft Bill is accordingly framed.
